WEEK-END SPORT

All Eyes On K.C.C. Juniors

ANOTHER FULL PROGRAMME

Cricket, football, hockey, Rugby football and yachting. These are all included in the afternoon's sport programme for to-day and while the football matches will no doubt command the biggest following, in view of the approaching Interport contest with Shanghai, the other games will not suffer any lack of support and the Rugby match between the Club, winners of the Triangular Tournament, and the United Services, serving as it does as dress rehearsal for the rugged Interport, should also draw a capacity crowd of rugged enthusiasts.

The soccer programme is a very full one with all the Senior teams on view, while so far as the cricket side of the afternoon's sport is concerned Second Division teams will be engaged in League fixtures with the Seniors indulging in friendlies. Some very interesting ladies' hockey matches are promised while at North Point that section of the community who indulge in that very pleasant form of sport—yachting—will take part in the Third Corinthian Series which should prove extremely interesting.

Cricket

BY L.B.W.
In dealing with the cricket programme for to-day, I will first of all dwell on the first division games, for though they are only friendly fixtures, they should prove every bit as interesting as the League games. In fact I hold the opinion that "friendlies" are much more enjoyable affairs than League fixtures and I know for a fact that many of the Colony's leading cricketers share that view.

The best game of the afternoon should be that between the Kowloon Cricket Club and the Royal Navy, and despite the K.C.C.'s poor showing against the Club in their League encounter last week, I confidently expect them to win. There is no getting away from the fact that they are the best all-round team in the Colony but they have merely struck a bad patch—and this cannot so indefinitely.

Syria's Answer In Sanjak Issue

London, Jan. 29.
Violent protests and threats of a general strike are Syria's answer to the Sanjak settlement reached at Geneva, according to reports here.
Speaking to 10,000 demonstrators, the Syrian Premier, Jamil Bey declared that Syria would not tolerate the Arab and Turkish language being given equal status, and the harbour of Alexandretta being given to the Turks.

The demonstrators shouted protests against France and the League of Nations and declared a general strike, whereupon all shops in the Syrian towns were closed.
It is stated that a Syrian delegation consisting of the Premier, Jamil Bey and many prominent Syrians, will proceed to Paris and Geneva to protest against the agreement between France and Turkey.—Transocean News Service.

BRILLIANT BALL

St. George's Society Function

The annual ball of the St. George's Society was held last night at the Peninsula Hotel which was most effectively decorated for the event. The function was a brilliant one and was attended by His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott and Lady Caldecott.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

At the conclusion of the dinner, the President, Mr. V. M. Grayburn, said in part:—

The primary object of this gathering here to-night is to celebrate the anniversary of St. George which the evil nature of our climate makes it wiser to do in the cool weather instead of the hot. I do welcome you all most sincerely and thank you for coming in such goodly numbers to make our annual ball the success I hope you will vote it. But in welcoming you I am put in the curious position of saying welcome and goodbye to the principal guest of the evening and his, may I say, adorable wife. His Excellency Sir Andrew Caldecott has been with us for only a little over a year and at all rights St. George's Society should have been the first of our Societies to greet him, but as you

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENT

Expressions Of Regret

In connection with the message received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies regarding the irrevocability of the appointment of Sir Andrew Caldecott to the Governorship of Ceylon, there were expressions of regret from all sections of the community yesterday.

Below we give the views of two of the Colony's leaders reflecting as they do, the general feeling:—

HON. MR. S. H. DODWELL

The Hon. Mr. S. H. Dodwell said that in the circumstances he felt there was nothing further that the Chamber of Commerce or China Association could do in the matter. It is extremely difficult, he continued, for the business man to appreciate what reasons of high policy could justify the transfer of Hong Kong's Governor at a time like the present, and just when he has picked up the threads of a situation which is capable of development to the immense advantage of Great Britain.

Hong Kong is a tiny place as compared with Ceylon. We all realise that. It is the part she plays in Britain's trade with South China that counts. This part, if played to the best advantage during the next few years, appears to

KING'S COLLEGE

PRIZE DAY

Governor Gives Away Awards

After he had presented the prizes at the annual speech day of King's College yesterday morning, His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, in the course of his speech stated that as regards the number of changes among the masters he could assure them that it was the policy of the Colonial Government to avoid all avoidable changes of personnel.

"Now on the second point," said His Excellency, "the frequency of mid-term absences among the boys I am going to suggest what may appear a paradox: that it is the business of the sons to educate the parents in this matter."

Mr. W. Kay, Headmaster, reported a successful year of progress in the school work.

Among those present besides His Excellency were the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith (Colonial Secretary), Sir William Hornell, Mr. G. R. Sayer (Director of Education), and Professor L. Forster.

TUBERCULOSIS SCOURGE

Average Of 3,000 Deaths A Year In Colony

EXPECTORATING IN PUBLIC MUST BE STOPPED

Suggested preventative measures to be adopted in an effort to fight the tuberculosis scourge in Hong Kong, which claims 3,000 deaths a year on an average, were put forward by Dr. Li Shu-pul, of the Li Clinic, when he delivered a lecture on "Spitting" at the St. John Ambulance Brigade headquarters, Tai Hang, last night before a large audience comprising men and nurses of the Brigade and friends.

The lecture was given with a view to the prosecution of a health campaign throughout the Colony.

In the course of his lecture, Dr. Li Shu-pul, who spoke in Chinese, said that the daily number of deaths from tuberculosis in Hong Kong was about eight on an average or about 3,000 a year. If a third of all tuberculosis patients return to their own village, the number will be increased to 4,000 a year. From this figure we can calculate the total number of people who are sick from tuberculosis.

is 80,000 every day. This would show that one in ten persons is sick every day and this is a tremendous drain on the financial resources of the population. If each sick person took 50 cents worth of medicine a day it would amount to $4,000 daily or $14,000,000 a year which is spent for a disease which is preventable. This calculation did not include medical expenses, loss of working hours and jobs.

An innovation will be introduced in the betting for the Annual Race Meeting 1937, in the form of a Forecast Pool, conditions of which are as follows:—

A Forecast Pool will be conducted on The Hong Kong Derby, on all entered ponies, whether they subsequently start or not. The Pool, less Government Betting Tax and Commission to the Club will be divided equally among the nominators who forecast the first three ponies past the post in the Hong Kong Derby, in the correct order.

The cost of each Forecast will be:—

Before 5 p.m. on Monday, 8th February, 1937	$1
Between 5 p.m. on Monday, 8th February, 1937, and 5 p.m. on Monday, 15th February, 1937	$2
Between 5 p.m. on Monday, 15th February, 1937, and 3 p.m. on Monday, 22nd February, 1937	$5

Nomination forms may be obtained at the Treasurers Office, Exchange Building; the Club House, Happy Valley; the Stables, Shan Kwong Road; the Hong Kong Club, or the Sports Club.

The nomination forms must be filled in legibly by the nominator in duplicate. The Forms will be registered by the Treasurers at their office during usual office hours, or at the Cash Sweep Counter, the Race Course, during race days, on payment of the cost as above. The original will be signed as received on registration by the Treasurers and returned to the nominator. The duplicate, which must bear the nominator's signature, will be retained by the Treasurers.

On no account will a Forecast be registered unless accompanied by the cost.

True To Fuehrer Unto Death

New Law In Germany

Berlin, Jan. 29.
All Government and municipal officials, including income tax collectors, railwaymen, gasmen and postmen, now have to take the oath of allegiance to Chancellor Hitler in accordance with the new law which prescribes that officials must be true to the Fuehrer unto death and report to their superiors anything they hear, even outside of their regular duties, liable to endanger the existence of the Reich or Nazism.

All must be Aryans and have Aryan wives. Cabinet ministers who offend the law become subject to instant dismissal by Chancellor Hitler.—Reuter.

R.M.A. DORADO

The R. M. A. Dorado left Kai Tak yesterday for Penang with three passengers, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Price, and Miss C. M. L. Burton. There were also 9,900 kilos of freight and 135,000 kilos of mail on board the plane.

Is Glasgow Going West?

Is Glasgow gradually going west? That seems almost a scientist's night-mare, but observations taken at the Glasgow Observatory determine that the city's longitude west of Greenwich at the present time is in the neighbourhood of 17 minutes 11.25 seconds, compared with 17 minutes 10.55 seconds 67 years ago.

Mr. T. R. Tannahill, assistant at Glasgow Observatory, made that disclosure during an after-lunch talk on the "History and Work of Glasgow Observatory" to Glasgow Rotarians.

Commenting on the difference of time—7 of a second—Mr. Tannahill said:—

"Not very much, perhaps. But if the difference represents a real change in longitude, it means that the Glasgow Observatory has during the last 70 years drifted about 600 feet farther west, relatively to Greenwich."

Not So Alarming
There was a possibility, of course, of an error in the former determination, but close examination of the calculations involved revealed none. An error of 7 of a second in the observations themselves was hardly likely, particularly as observations were taken on four different nights.

GRAND NATIONAL CENTENARY

Golden Miller's Race

Entries for the Grand National will shortly be published. It will be the centenary of that great steeplechase, states a Home correspondent.

Miss Dorothy Paget's famous steeplechaser, Golden Miller, was brought out for a minor steeplechase at Wincanton, Somerset, on Boxing Day. He won by thirty lengths, but the race was no sort of test for an animal of his quality, as the opposition comprised only poor-class horses. The object, apparently, in giving

Golden Miller a series of easy races is to renew his confidence, which it was feared was shaken when he twice unseated his jockey, G. Wilson, at Aintree in March 1935, in the Grand National and in the Champion Steeplechase the next day.

Golden Miller and Reynoldstown, winner of the race in 1935 and 1936, are both to be entered, and they are likely to figure at the top of the handicap.

The top-weight's task is 7lb.
more severe, as the minimum weight is reduced from 10st. 7lb.

to 10st.

Christian And Otherwise

(BY SCRUTATOR)

The history of marriage is in a very true sense, the epitome of the social history of the human race. The story of mankind's sojourn on this planet reveals the fact that, when men and women regard each other, with true and intelligent respect and honest understanding, society reaches its highest peaks of spiritual and cultural achievement.

The highest natural development of the sexual relationship is in the life-long monogamous union of men and women, and Christian marriage is fundamentally monogamous. It is impossible to argue from this high and occasional achievement, however, that only such relationships are natural to mankind, that only such relationships are divinely instituted.

The divine purpose is just as truly revealed by animals who know a different mate every season and by men and women who in obedience to their instincts seek sexual fulfilment outside a monogamous union. But while that is true, it is infinitely truer, that the purest and highest development of the divine purpose is revealed in that human love which unites a man and a woman in an intelligent life-long loyalty and affection.

The Mosaic Law concerning marriage and divorce is written in the 24th chapter of the Book of Deuteronomy, and in the Moffatt translation is rendered thus:—

"When a man takes a wife and marries her, if she displeases him because he has found her immodest in some way, and if he writes out a deed of divorce and puts it into her hand, dismissing her from his house, then if, on leaving his house, she goes and marries another man, and if this second husband turns against her and hands her a written deed of divorce, 'dismissing her from his house, or if he dies, her former husband may not take her again to wife after she has been so sold; that would be abominable to the Eternal, your God!'"

Low Standard

The standard of relationship implied in this teaching is obviously very low; there is no provision for the woman if she should decide to divorce her husband because his immodesty is displeasing to her, there is no equality of right at all. Woman, in the Mosaic law, is a chattel, little better than slave, and moreover this is the law which was in operation in the society into which Jesus was born. When taxed on the question of marriage and divorce by the Pharisees, Jesus only slightly modified law by making adultery the only reason for a husband divorcing his wife, but even this very slight restriction of a husband's privileges was sufficient to make his own disciples come to the conclusion that it was better not to marry at all.

To their objection Jesus gave a very surprising answer, saying that this ideal which he set up, this "truth is not practicable for everyone. It is only for those who have the gift." A compassionate attempt to make the divine purpose as intelligible and acceptable to small minds as he could make it! Then he proceeds to speak of the alternative to the divine purpose of marriage, celibacy, and advises only those to practice it for whom it is possible, and then only as an alternative to marriage, and for the sake of the Kingdom of God.

It is clear from these considerations that Jesus recognised and admitted as valid an evolutionary doctrine as the explanation of the various standards of morality which have prevailed and do still prevail among men. But there is one essential difference between Jesus' belief in evolution, and the belief of many other adherents of the doctrine, and that is that Jesus knew and believed that the beginning and the end of the evolutionary process was God; that man's lowly origins and his various attempts to formulate a way of life each of them true and good because they are in a measure, a revelation of the fundamental divine purpose for the world.

The second conclusion which we have to face is this, that true marriage, sacramental love, is only possible between a man and a woman who "have the gift," whose lives are lived in the Holy Spirit. Other relationships, other types of marriage are possible and natural and right, but being without "the gift," the spirit, are perforce fallible and may have to have recourse to divorce so that the individuals concerned may not suffer in self-respect or in any other way.

Physical Or Spiritual

In view of these conclusions it is surely the duty of the Christian and of the Christian Church to maintain an attitude of love and tolerance towards all those who are without "the gift," and in obedience to the example of Christ, to seek to bring all men into the life of the Spirit, and in face of all failure and sin never to cease their helping ministry. In these days when the painful jeremiads of ecclesiastics and moralists and what-nots are broadcast on the winds of heaven and printed in every passing hour, and the world is told that it is lowering the standard of sex life and love, there is a great necessity laid upon the intelligent mind to examine these denunciations, and the result of such an examination reveals that they are based upon one of two false assumptions: first there is the assumption that society as such has once achieved a Christian standard of marriage, and that is historically false; and the second assumption, that modern society as such is capable of reaching the Christian standard without experiencing any change of heart is manifestly ridiculous.

Marriage may be physical or spiritual; Jesus recognised both relationships as marriage, but he sought by his entire life, by his teaching, and in his death, to prove to mankind that life lived without the Holy Spirit of God in it, was only a half life, and that the fullest and truest life for men and women on this earth was possible only when they lived it in God, a mystical unity of body and soul.

Spiritual man is the image or idea of God, an idea which cannot be lost nor separated from its divine principle. When the evidence before the material senses yielded to spiritual sense, the apostle declared that nothing could alienate him from God, from the sweet sense and presence of Life and Truth. It is ignorance and false belief, based on a material sense of things, which hide spiritual beauty and goodness. Understanding this, Paul said: 'Neither death nor life, nor things present, nor things to come, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God.' This is the doctrine of Christian Science: that divine Love cannot be deprived of its manifestation, or object; that joy cannot be turned into sorrow, for sorrow is not the master of joy; that good can never produce evil; that matter can never produce mind nor life result in death. In the following Psalm one word shows, though faintly, the light which Christian Science throws on the Scriptures by substituting for the corporeal sense, the incorporeal or spiritual sense of Deity:—Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house (the consciousness) of (LOVE) for ever. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, to-morrow, January 31, will be: "Love."

The Golden Text will be: "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love; he will joy over thee with singing" (Zephaniah 3:17).

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose. What then shall we say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever" (Rom 8:28, 31, 35, 37, 39, Pa. 23, 6).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us rid ourselves of the belief that man is separated from God, and obey only the divine Principle, Life and Love. 1. Holy Communion on Sunday,

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

Eucharistic Congress

The Eucharistic Congress which will take place during the coming week is brought much to the notice of Hong Kong people during these days, because each day brings many hundred additional visitors to the Colony, on their way to Manila. If it had not been for the shipping strike in the United States there would have been at least a thousand more, for three ships which were well booked up had to cancel their passages. Among those who are passing through are three well-known Catholic priest-editors. The best-known is Fr. Gillis, C.S.P., Editor of "The Catholic World," one of the most popular Catholic magazines in the English language and admirably edited. Fr. Gillis is a most prolific writer. He is definitely a journalist, and as well as writing a great deal in his own magazine, he writes a syndicated article every week which is published in a score of papers. The other two are editors of Mission magazines: Fr. P. O'Connor, of "The Far East," and Fr. P. Amy, S. J. of "Jesuit Missions." The last named deals with all the mission areas in which Jesuits from North America are working. It is especially remarkable for its excellent articles on native customs in various countries and for its splendid illustrations. Fr. O'Connor, a member of the Columbian Missionary Fathers, is an Irishman.

Those who listen in to the Manila Broadcasting Station during the coming week will hear a good deal of the Congress, as arrangements have been made to transmit a broadcast of several of the important ceremonies. (The Manila Broadcasting programmes appear regularly in the "Daily Press.") If expectations are realised, the music of the Congress should be particularly effective. A choir of a thousand voices, accompanied by a symphony orchestra, has been practising for many months, and the results are so promising that arrangements have been made for the relay of one of their concerts by the wireless stations of many foreign countries. In addition to this there will be the regular Congress music which has also been in preparation for a long time. The hymn which was specially written and composed for this occasion has already become extremely popular in the Philippines, and is particularly suited for singing by a large congregation. A special Congress Band has also been formed; the musicians will wear uniforms specially designed for them.

LOCAL RESIDENTS FOR MANILA

Many people from Hong Kong are going to Manila to attend the Congress, and but for the difficulty of accommodation both on ships going to Manila, and on shore in Manila, the number would be considerably greater. H.E. the Bishop will go by the "Victoria. Many of the priests are going by different boats. Fr. Macstrini, who, as Hon. Secretary of the local Congress Committee, has had a very large part in arranging for Hong Kong participation at Manila, left on the "Potsdam." Fr. Gallagher, B.J., Headmaster of Wah Yan College, travelled by the same boat. A large party will travel by the "Tisadane," among them being representatives of several Catholic organisations and pupils from some of the schools chosen by the votes of their companions. On this steamer will be Fr. Ma, one of the best-known Chinese priests in the Vicariate, and a native of Hong Kong. A few weeks ago he celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood, and his friends took the opportunity to express their affection for him by presenting him with a ticket to the Congress, with complete expenses paid from the time he leaves Hong Kong until he returns. Fr. Ma is at present stationed outside the Colony, at Waiyeung, near Waichow.

AFTER THE CONGRESS

The number of visitors to Hong Kong on account of the Congress will be almost as many after the Congress as before it, for many of the ships that are not touching here on their way to Manila will come on their way back. Though no definite statement has been made as to his route, it seems likely that Cardinal Dougherty, the Papal Legate, will make a brief stay in Hong Kong. His visit will probably be among the last for he has the intention of visiting some of the southern islands before leaving the Philippines, as he is anxious to see once more the

CHAMPAGNE WALTZ

At last they have provided Gladys Swarthout with a story and leading man worthy of her talents.

"The Champagne Waltz," Paramount production which opens today at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres and at the Star Theatre tomorrow, in celebration of Paramount's Silver Jubilee, is superior screen entertainment. The excellent Swarthout voice is given plenty of celluloid footage and its full range is brought to the sound screen for the first time. In other words, other pictures she has made have not shown the prima donna to the best advantage, but this one does.

As a leading man, Miss Swarthout has the capable and likeable Fred MacMurray playing opposite her. As usual, his performance is pleasing and plentifully supplied with comedy relief. The comies, however, are well supported by Jack Oakie and Herman Bing.

The story of "The Champagne Waltz" while light, is well suited to Miss Swarthout, and is a much better yarn than anything they have given her to date. MacMurray is cast as an American Jazz band leader on the loose with his musicians in Vienna. He is under contract with the city's leading impresario, played by Herman Bing, and because of his popularity, has attracted all the business away from the Viennese Waltz Palace. Miss Swarthout appears as the grand-daughter of Fritz Leibler, the director of the Waltz Palace Orchestra.

She and MacMurray are brought together when she attempts to get Fred's orchestra out of competition.

Oakie is cast as MacMurray's manager who gets himself tangled up with a Viennese countess and suddenly wakes up one morning to find that he has married her.

Summing the entire picture up there seems to be very little in it that can be criticized. The music is good, Miss Swarthout and other members of the cast give fine performances and most of the comedy is of the side-splitting variety. "The Champagne Waltz" can be highly recommended for everyone.

BORN TO DANCE

The producers who gave you "Broadway Melody of 1936" and "The Great Ziegfeld" come through with another smash musical success in "Born To Dance," which opens to-day at the King's Theatre with Eleanor Powell. "Queen of Taps," dancing her way to fresh triumphs to the scintillating song hits of Cole Porter who here tops even his famed "You're the Top."

His story, of a small-town girl who falls in love with a navy man and nearly loses him to a stage favourite, is packed with entertainment. It is a logical plot with interesting submarine sequences, picturesque naval backgrounds and comedy highlights but the wealth of spectacular beauty in the lavish scenes, the brilliant dancing and the unforgettable music, plus the attractive performances of the star and a dazzling supporting cast are the distinctive features which make this one of the most entertaining musical pictures to come out of Hollywood.

There is so much talent in the supporting cast that it is difficult to single any one artist of special praise. Mention must be made, however, of the excellent performances of James Stewart as the hero, Virginia Bruce as the temperamental stage star, Una Merkel and Sid Sniers furnishing the laughs, Frances Langford of the lovely voice.

BRIDE FROM SHANGHAI

Gown Of Ice-Blue Satin

Mr. Nigel Gresley, elder son of Sir Nigel Gresley, of Salisbury Hall, St. Albans, was married recently, at All Souls', Langham-place, to Miss Kathleen Eliza Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lamb, of 547, Avenue Foch, Shanghai, China. The Rev. H. Earnshaw Smith, rector of All Souls', officiated.

The bride was given away by her father. She wore a gown of ice-blue satin, and bridal veil of tulle, to match, held in place by a cap of satin and orange blossom. Her bouquet was of arum lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Lamb, Miss Gresley, Miss Enid London, and Miss Diana Wyllie, and Jean Hay, who wore dresses and short coats of powder-blue crepe, and had plaited head-dresses to match. They carried bouquets of dark-red tulips. The maid of honour, Jean Hay, wore an Empire dress of powder-blue crepe.

BISHOPS ON DIVORCE

Admission To Holy Communion

Divergent opinions on the question of the admission to Holy Communion of persons who have remarried after divorce will be put forward by bishops when the Church and Marriage Report of the Joint Committee of the Convocation of Canterbury is discussed by the Upper House of Convocation on January 20.

A resolution moved by the Bishop of Ely, Dr. Bernard Heywood, and seconded by the Bishop of St. Albans, Dr. M. E. Furse, will call for the strict observance of the Church rule against readmission, on the grounds that people who marry again after divorce have "transgressed the law of Christ and the Church," and that they "continue to live in disregard of the moral obligations which must bind those who are to be admitted to Holy Communion."

Another section of opinion will be represented by the resolution of the Bishop of Winchester, Dr. C. F. Garbett, contending that the most salutary form of discipline, applicable to the circumstances of the day, would be the admission of such persons to Holy Communion only by the decision of the diocese, after he had fully considered the facts.

CONDITION OF CONSENT

He would give his consent only when he was satisfied that the parties, "after mature reflection and in all good conscience, are fully persuaded that it is right for them to live together as man and wife," and that the admission would not give grave offence to the Church, nor to any member who might feel especially aggrieved.

If the Upper House approves the motion of the Bishop of Winchester's motion it will also be called upon to consider a resolution by the Bishop of St. Albans that an application to a bishop by persons desiring to be admitted shall be in writing and contain a declaration that:

(a) Where the applicant has been a petitioner in divorce proceedings he or she "truly repents of having broken the marriage vow of lifelong partnership," or

(b) In the case of a respondent or co-respondent the applicant "truly repents of having committed the sin of adultery, or of having misled the Court into the belief that adultery has been committed."

The application would then be considered by four clergymen of his diocese, and the bishop's decision would take effect after not less than six months' probation and discipline.

POLICE NOT SATISFIED

Inquiries To Be Instigated

When he was brought before Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday, Lam Yau, a 24-year-old unemployed earth cooler pleaded guilty to the four charges of (a) attempted burglary at 43, Gramplan Road on January 23, (b) simple larceny from the servants' quarters of 41, Gramplan Road, (c) Burglary at "Red Roof", Diamond Hill where he stole clothing to a total value of about $280, and (d), loitering at La Salle Road at 4 a.m. on January 28.

Det. Sgt. MacPherson, who prosecuted, said that defendant was taken back to station on "D" charge, and when he was questioned he admitted the other offences.

Defendant pawned all the clothing which he stole from "Red Roof" including a fur coat valued at $130, for $3.

Sgt. MacPherson further told his Worship that the police were not satisfied with the pawn broker and asked for forty-eight hours' remand to make further investigation.

EXTRADITION CHARGE

Heavy Bail Fixed

Chuen Chi-kong appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday on an extradition charge instituted by the Government of the Dutch East Indies, where he is wanted for the alleged embezzlement of the sum of $3,000 (Hong Kong currency) and 4,000 guilders.

He was represented by Mr. F. H. Kwok, who asked for a week's formal remand, which his Worship granted.

Chief Detective-Insp. J. Murphy, appeared on behalf of the police.

Mr. Kwok: Will your worship consider bail?—Bail will be set at $10,000.

Mr. Murphy: That is about the amount involved, but I suggest a larger sum.

His Worship: Then, bail will be $20,000 to ensure defendant's appearance in Court.

EUROPEAN MOTORIST IN COURT

Appearing before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday on a traffic summons, H. PLENARY SESSION IN NANKING

Canton, Jan. 28.
It is reported that Dr. Chow Loo, Chancellor of the Chung Shan University of Canton is returning to Canton from Nanking to confer with the Kwangtung and Kwangsi representatives regarding important questions to be discussed at the Third Plenary Session of the Central Executive Committee to be held on February 15 next.

Dr. Chow Loo will also have a lengthy discussion with Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi, and impress upon them the importance of attending the session.

Another report states that owing to differences of opinion, it may be necessary to postpone the date of the Third Plenary Session, but this would be most unfortunate owing to the importance of the session and the different questions to be discussed and settled.

Judgment For Husband

The case in which Pang Tak-yau was summoned by his wife, Mul Sung-rung for desertion was concluded at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday when Mr. E. Himsforth gave his judgment. Complainant was represented by Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios while Mr. F. X. D'Almada, Snr. was for the defendant.

In giving judgment his Worship said:—

In this case the only point which has to be decided is whether the husband made a bona fide offer to his wife to take her back into the family household.

With regard to this offer, the evidence shows that it has been a continuing offer since it was first made in court on November 23, last year. The terms have varied from time to time, but always I think, in the wife's favour. He has offered to be bound over to be of good behaviour to his wife, to give her food and shelter and a monthly allowance of pin money and to ensure that she is not molested by her mother-in-law. A husband is not, of course, compelled to make such extensive concessions but the fact that he has done so is, I think, strong evidence that he is really anxious to have his wife brought back into the family home.

In contradiction the wife alleges that she will not accept the husband's offer because she is afraid he will attack her when once she has returned! The only evidence which is adduced to support such a contention is that the husband attempted to strike her once after leaving the court and that he did actually strike her before she finally left the marital home.

I do not think that the presence of a concubine in the House can rebut the bona fides of the husband's offer. I therefore find that the husband's offer to take back his wife into the marital home is a genuine offer made in good faith and as such constitutes a complete answer to charges alleged. The summons is accordingly dismissed.

COSTLY FERRY RIDE

Chinese Fined $20

Yau Wong-cheung, 24, a tailor, was summoned at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday by the Yau-mai Ferry for attempting to ride on one of their ferries without playing his fare.

He appeared before Mr. Keen, and Mr. F. H. Loseby represented the complainant firm.

Defendant told the Court that a monthly ticket had been bought by his employer, Yung Sung-chung. On the day previously he was asked for his ticket by Mr. A. Black, an inspector of the Ferry, who was dissatisfied with it and asked him to sign his name. This, according to Mr. Black, did not tally with the signature on the ticket and he was forthwith arrested.

Yung stated that he signed the tickets for all his employees himself, and that the defendant was a newcomer to the Colony.

Mr. Keen fined defendant $20.

OFFICER FINED

Pleading guilty through a letter when he was summoned at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday, Lieut. Jonas, of H.M.S. Odin was fined a sum of $15 for driving a car at an excessive speed in Nathan Road controlled area on January 5.

CZECH INVITATION DECLINED

Inspection Of Aerodromes By Britain

London, Jan. 27.
The British Government declined the invitation of the Czechoslovakian Government to inspect the aerodromes in the country, in order to ascertain that certain foreign press reports alleging that Soviet Russia had established air bases on Czechoslovakian territory, are unfounded.

In a statement in the House of Commons to-day, the Under-Secretary of State, Lord Cranborne, pointed out that the investigation in the way suggested could not possibly be carried out by a member of the British Legation at Prague. The only result such an investigation could have was to involve the British Government in a conflict between two foreign Governments.

KING'S COLLEGE PRIZE DAY

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

The Headmaster, presenting his report said:

The average daily attendance for the year was 688—74 below that of the previous year.

During the period under review King's College had no fewer than three Headmasters. Until the end of November, while I was still on leave, Mr. Handyside acted as Head, and from the middle of June, when I was attending the conference in Honolulu, Mr. Beddow took charge. Unfortunately these were not the only staff changes: Messrs. Rees and McLellan were transferred to Central British School. Mr. Sims became Head of a college in Cyprus and Mr. White, who had been here since the migration from Saling-pun, went to Sookunpoo to look after the Indian School.

Several visits were paid to workshops and factories where the boys could see performed on a commercial scale what they themselves do and study in the labs. I take this opportunity publicly to thank the managers of these factories for their kindness and courtesy.

SWIMMING POPULAR

The gymnasium and swimming-pool, both used regularly, are becoming more and more popular and almost every boy in the school can swim. Extra-mural activities such as Scouting, Photography, Stamp-collecting and Ambulance Work, each supervised by an enthusiastic teacher, continue to interest large numbers, while the School Magazine affords our young scribes an excellent field in which to give their penmanship practice in English and Chinese.

EXAMINATIONS

Judged by examination results the school may be said to have done well. Of the fifty boys who sat the School Certificate Examination thirty-five passed, one with honours and fourteen distinctions were obtained. Other classes did equally well in their respective examinations.

SCHOOL CERTIFICATE

The new School Certificate Examination, run by the Education Office and to be held for the first time this year, will not qualify for matriculation. A winner of this certificate wishing to enter the University will have to continue his studies at school for at least another year. This, we hope, will enable the schools to devote themselves to their proper task which, in my opinion, is to provide a training ground for citizenship and a preparation for life.

Before sitting down I should like to voice my appreciation of the excellent work done by all members of the Staff both inside and outside school, also to express our thanks to Your Excellency for honouring us to-day with your presence. (Applause).

His Excellency

His Excellency, Sir Andrew Caldecott said:

I have listened to your Headmaster's report with great interest. It contained many points for congratulation but two for sympathy. The first of these was the number of changes among the masters and the second was the frequency of mid-term absences among the boys. As regards the first I can assure you that it is the policy of the Colonial Government to avoid all avoidable changes of personnel. How often they become unavoidable I learned from a bitter experience of staffing problems in the Malay Peninsula; what with retirements, casualties, furloughs, conferences and what not it is the most difficult puzzle I know how to keep the pieces stationary on the chess-board. I am afraid therefore that I can only state the principle of permitting as few changes of personnel as possible and console with you that, in spite of it, you have suffered so many of them.

A PARADOX

Now on the second point, the frequency of mid-term absences among the boys I am going to suggest what may appear a paradox: that it is the business of the sons to educate the parents in this matter. The famous headmaster of my old school, Edward Thring, once found himself up against the evil, not of mid-term absences for Uppingham had no day-boys, but of belated returns from the holidays of boys whose parents detained them on pleas of business, or weddings, or funerals and so on. Thring soon settled this

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS

James Boring Party Arrive

The first of organized touring parties for the 33rd World Eucharistic Congress at Manila arrived in Hong Kong yesterday morning by the C.P. liner "Empress of Japan." The James Boring Party comprise of approximately 150 ecclesiastics and other passengers.

The majority of the members of the James Boring Party have booked their passage on the Empress of Russia, which is scheduled to leave first for Sandian Islands where the tourists will visit the place where St. Francis Xavier died.

Both the Canadian Pacific liners were berthed along No. 1 Pier at the Kowloon Wharf yesterday and the transfer of passengers and baggage were completed during the day.

problem by taking his cane and giving a dozen of his best, and his was a very good best, to every boy who came back late from the holidays and without asking his reasons. The result was that these boys very quickly educated their parents in this matter. Now I dare not in this year of grace commend Edward Thring's example to Mr. Kay, but I wish to leave the matter with you boys. If this school is worth what I believe it to be worth it must possess an esprit de corps; or in other words manners must be making men here. Now I want you boys to set this esprit de corps very definitely against the casual absences of which your Headmaster complains: I want you to make the casual absentee feel that he is a rotter and has let down the school. If you do that you will find that the delinquent will pass the feeling on to his parents and will thereby educate them.

I hope that you will remember these few words of mine and take them to heart, because I am not going to say anything more except to congratulate the prize winners and to tell you how glad I am to visit your magnificent school this morning.

MORE HEROIN PILLS

Two Men Committed

Four men, Chan Yuk, 35, Wong Fung, 34, Lo Sang, aged 30, and Pin Chi-kwan, 33, all of 170, Gloucester Road, third floor, were charged Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday with the unlawful possession of a quarter ounce of crude heroin, sufficient to make 17,500 heroin pills, and also an admixture of powder enough to make 20,000 pills.

Mr. J. P. Murphy, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, while Mr. F. E. Nash appeared for Chan Yuk and Wong Fung.

Mr. Murphy offered no evidence against Lo Sang and Pin Chi-kwan and they were accordingly discharged.

Mr. Murphy described a raid made by S. R. O. Grimmit, Mr. H. A. Taylor, Government Monopoly Analyst, and party at 170, Gloucester Road, on January 15 at 8 a.m. Upon knocking they were not admitted and in order to gain entrance Mr. Grimmit had to send a Chinese Revenue Officer to the roof to enable entrance into the premises. In the meantime, sounds of moving about were heard.

On entering the premises the first defendant was found in the passage way while the second was coming from the kitchen. Upon examination, Mr. Grimmit found that the lavatory had signs of having been used to dispose of the pink mass. Both defendants' hands were stained.

When charged, Chan Yuk said: "Only a part is mine, the remaining portion belonged to my friends." Wong Fung stated: "The drugs are not mine. I only stayed there."

Both defendants were committed to the Criminal Sessions.

WANCHAI ROBBERY RECALLED

Unemployed Sent To Sessions

BAR BOY ATTACKED

Lam Chol, unemployed, was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday with robbing Yue Ping-kwong, of the sum of $38.60.

Sub-Inspector W. N. Darkin appeared on behalf of the police.

Mr. M. I. de Ville, land surveyor, testified that he prepared eight copies of the plans of the vicinity.

Mr. John Redmon, Assistant Government Analyst, stated that he analysed the contents of a package he received from the police and found it contained an eighth of an ounce of pepper.

Sub-Inspector Darkin said that early on the evening of January 16, the defendant, with three others not in custody set upon the complainant, Yu Ping-kwong, when he was returning to the China Fleet Club with $110 in his possession. They struck at his hand and part of the money rolled on to the ground and was picked up by the assailants and complainant followed the defendant to Swatow Street where the latter fell and was apprehended. The defendant was handed over to a district watchman and taken to the Wanchai Police Station.

In the witness box, Yu Ping-kwong, testified that he was a bar boy employed at the China Fleet Club. He described the attack as outlined by the prosecution but defendant said that there were a number of people at the spot at the time and he merely picked up the money that was lying on the ground.

After the district watchman had given corroborative evidence, Wing Hing No. 1 bar boy of the China Fleet Club deposed that he sent Yu Ping-kwong to change $10.

Defendant was committed for trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

Fine Gentlemen Who Play For Safety

Scotland has a right to expect that her youngish business men with capital resources should show something like the same courage and daring as their fathers and grandfathers did.

"Under present circumstances they have no right to play for safety, to sit down like fools or fine gentlemen, too timid and too afraid to venture."

These comments were made by Mr. James A. Bowie, Principal of Dundee School of Economics, in the course of a lecture delivered to the Insurance Society of Edinburgh.

"The development of Scotland as a play-ground for the rich," he said, "has done something to sap the business vitality of the young men who alone have the power and cash to revive our industrial life."

Golf May be a Curse
Mr. Bowie thought that "the deer forest, the grouse moor, the hunt, the races, the fishing, and the golf course may be excellent recreations for the busy business man, but if they become the main interests of the sons and grandsons of those who put Scotland on the

Woman Solicitor
Makes HistoryPractices In Scotland
—And Now England

A graduate of Glasgow University tied to practise in both Scotland and England. This legal distinction has been won by Miss Madge Easton Anderson, who recently passed the final examination of the English Law Society and thereby qualified as an English solicitor. She has thus, for the second time in her career, made legal history, for in 1920, after a successful appeal to the Court of Session under the Sex Disqualification (Removal) Act, 1919, she was admitted to the roll of Scottish solicitors, being the first woman in the United Kingdom to become a solicitor. Miss Anderson, who graduated M.A., LL.B. at Glasgow University, has been for the past three years a member of the pioneer firm of women lawyers in London.

Conscription?

However the very mention of the word conscription may send a shiver down the British spine, we have not by any means heard the last of the national service idea as canvassed up and down the country by Lord Roberts in the years before the war.

The Duke of Atholl returns to the charge in a letter to the Editor of the Glasgow "Bulletin." He is not satisfied that the University Unionists, in the debate in Glasgow the other day, came near the heart of the matter.

In point of fact it was not a particularly brilliant debate. Certainly it reflected truly enough the fundamental objections, common to all classes in this country, to any plan savouring of universal military training. But it did not seem to take due account of the overwhelming fact that should this country—which God forbid!—ever again have to face a war on the Continental scale, conscription would not be a matter of debate: it would be all but inevitable policy from zero hour. Events would compel it.

It seems to follow therefore that those who now most understandably set their faces against any thought of any sort of conscription—and they are, we have no doubt, the great majority—should try to understand the point of view of the advocates of part-time soldiering.

And the chief argument is simply this. Nowadays a military machine is literally a machine. The modern soldier is not simply a target-trained rifle man who can learn in a short space of time to move to the left in fours. As of old he requires to be as fit as his constitution allows, but on top of that he has to acquire skill in the developing mechanics of warfare without which he would be little use to his unit and a sitting bird to the enemy.

The national service advocates say fairly enough that since another great war would find all fit men of military age plunged willy-nilly into the field, preliminary training for all such men (to be undertaken under a part-time regime near their homes) would be an act of mercy, not to mention the ultimate economy in life and fighting resources if the country were forced to face the ordeal.

That is, of course, but one aspect of a subject which in the space available we raise only for a first glance. The real point is that, however we may shudder as a people at the prospect of even a modified form of military training, it has honest advocates who deserve to be heard.

THE FOURTH TEST

Allen Takes Bradman's
Off-Stump

Brilliant Play By McCabe

SEVEN WICKETS DROP FOR 267

With England having won two matches and Australia one in the present Test series, Australia did not fare too well in the fourth match when they elected to bat on what seemed to be an easy wicket. At close of the first day's play Australia had lost seven wickets for 267.

Don Bradman, who appeared to be settling down for another of his big scores, had his off-stump dislodged by Allen after he had made 28. Fingleton and Oldfield were both run out. McCabe played a brilliant innings for 88 when he was caught by Allen. Brown 42 and Chipperfield 45 not out were the other principal contributors.

Adelaide, Jan. 29.

A crowd of 25,000 attended an hour before the Fourth Test was due to start this morning in sunny and warm weather. Australia won the toss and went in to bat on an easy-paced wicket.

Badcock was included as twelfth man for Australia, the team being D. G. Bradman (Captain), W. A. Brown, J. H. Fingleton, S. J. McCabe, E. L. McCormick, W. J. O'Reilly, W. A. Oldfield, L. Fleetwood Smith, K. Rigg, A. G. Chipperfield and R. Gregory.

Although he was suffering from a score back near the waist, Voce was included in the England team, which comprised G. O. Allen (Captain), Ames, Barnett, K. Farnes, Hammond, Hardstaff, Leyland, R. W. V. Robins, Verity, Voce and R. E. S. Wyatt.

EARLY DISASTER

Fingleton and Brown opened the innings for Australia against the bowling of Voce, who was not seen at his usual, fast pace, and Allen, who was fast but could not get enough kick from the wicket. When 26 runs had been gathered, Fingleton, who had scored 10, was run out by Voce.

Rigg joined Brown and they were together at lunch time, the score board showing 72. Brown had collected 42 with delightful strokes to the leg, and Rigg had scored 20, batting very confidently.

The fielding up to this stage was excellent.

After lunch, without the addition of a run, Brown was held by Allen at short leg off Farnes. He had been batting for ninety-one minutes in scoring 42.

BRADMAN'S SHORT STAY

Bradman, the skipper, then entered, but only a run had been added when Rigg hit into the hands of Ames on the off-field. Farnes was the bowler and he had up to this time taken two wickets for 15 runs with fast deliveries. Rigg scored 20, three wickets being now down for 73.

McCabe joined Bradman and they carried the score to 136 when Bradman, who has scored 28 in sixty-eight minutes and looked to be set for a big score, had his off-stump dislodged by Allen.

BRILLIANT INNINGS

The score was carried to 163 for 4 at tea time. Gregory then had 11 runs, while McCabe had collected 54 with delightful square cuts and off-drives, four of which went to the boundary. McCabe was eight-eight minutes at the wicket in reaching the half century mark.

The second century was hoisted after 222 minutes of play, and with the addition of six runs McCabe was caught at short mid-on by Allen off Robins. McCabe played a brilliant innings, hitting all round the wicket, and he did not offer a single chance. He scored 88, including nine boundaries, and he was at the wicket for two hours and a quarter.

Gregory and Chipperfield added 20 runs for the sixth wicket, the former being leg-before-wicket to Hammond after 23 in a stay of eighty-nine minutes during which he brought off several neat leg strokes, one of which, however, only went to the boundary.

OLDFIELD RUN OUT

Six wickets had now fallen for 226 and Chipperfield carried on raising the score to 249 when Oldfield, who had scored five, was run out by Leyland.

Chipperfield, not out 45, played a defensive game with decisive cutting and legging. O'Reilly was the other not out batsman with three runs to his credit.

The attendance was 34,000 and the gate receipts £3,800.—

Chinese Railways

Comprehensive Survey

A magazine of considerable interest to engineers is the Quarterly Review of Chinese Railways which gives a fair survey of this important branch of communication which is taking place in the modern development of China. The book, which is printed by The Mercury Press, Shanghai, is published quarterly by the Institute of Railway Economics under the auspices of the Secretariat of the Ministry of Railways, Nanking.

The January, 1937, number contains many articles of interest, which includes "Railway Development and National Salvation," by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. His Excellency Chang Kai-shek, Minister of Railways, presents a general review of the Chinese National Railways, covering such topics as Traffic, Finance, Credit, Rehabilitation, Railway Development and New Constructions.

Topical Resume

A topical resume of the work done by the Ministry of Railways in 1936 is revealed by Mr. R. S. Norman, Advisor to the Ministry. However, an article of great interest is the review of the progress of work on the Chien Tang River Bridge. The Chien Tang River, world famous for its bore, is one of the principal waterways in the south-eastern provinces of China, traversing through lands noted for their wealth and dense population.

The bridge itself is a vital step in the development of China because of its importance to the national railway and highway systems of the country, serving as a connecting link between Shanghai and Canton on the rail and between Nanking and Foochow on the roads.

The Quarterly Review of Chinese Railways is a useful magazine for those who would know more about China's engineering works. To the layman, it is not only a reference book, but also one of considerable interest.—(E.J.M.).

New Coronation
Oath ActTo Be Passed In All
Dominions

A new form of Coronation oath, recognising the equal status of the Dominions as set out in the Statute of Westminster, will be taken by King George VI. when he is crowned at Westminster Abbey on May 12.

It was announced by the Earl of Clarendon, Governor-General of South Africa, at the opening of the South African Parliament, that a bill would be introduced dealing with the form of the Oath. This announcement follows conversations which have been taking place for some time between representatives of the Commonwealth Governments.

Similar legislation to that in preparation in South Africa will have to be passed by the British, Australian, New Zealand and Canadian Parliaments.

The form of Oath taken by King George V. at his Coronation was spoken by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the late Lord Davidson. He said:

"Will you solemnly promise and swear to govern the people of this United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Dominions thereto belonging, according to the statutes in Parliament agreed on, and the respective laws and customs of the same?"

The King replied: "I solemnly promise so to do."

Now that the Dominions enjoy equal status with the Mother Country it is felt that the words "and the Dominions thereto belonging" are no longer applicable.

Coronation Commission
To enable the Dominions to be represented in making certain of the arrangements for the Coronation, a Coronation Commission was set up recently, consisting of the Duke of Gloucester as chairman, members of the Coronation Committee, the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, and the Dominions High Commissioners in London.

Among the details of the Coronation arrangements now under consideration by the Earl Marshall's office is the place the Dominions representatives will take in "Order of Return" from Westminster Abbey to Buckingham Palace.

SAILORS' AND SOLDIERS' HOME

Visit By The Governor

His Excellency the Governor paid a visit on Thursday morning to the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home in Wanchai. His Excellency being received by the President of the Home (the Rev. E. C. H. Tribbeck), Commander C. D. Arbuthnot, R.N., (the Naval representative on the General Committee of the Home), the Rev. Donald B. Childe (who is taking over Mr. Tribbeck's duties pending the appointment of his successor) and members of the Committee of the Home.

Sir Andrew Caldecott made a thorough inspection of the premises, visiting the restaurant, kitchens, dormitories and recreation rooms. He spent some time in the vocational training school where he was much interested in the sectionalised Austin Twelve motorcar used for the motor course; in the marine engineering room, where he inspected the various models and drawings; he also commented on the attractiveness of the Quiet Room, which was furnished by Sir William Shenton as a farewell gift to the Home. He was especially attracted by the photograph of His Late Majesty King George and Queen Mary, personally signed by them, which was presented to the Home by Engineer Rear-Admiral Anstey (whose death has just occurred). The visit lasted for nearly an hour.

MR. TRIBBECK LEAVING

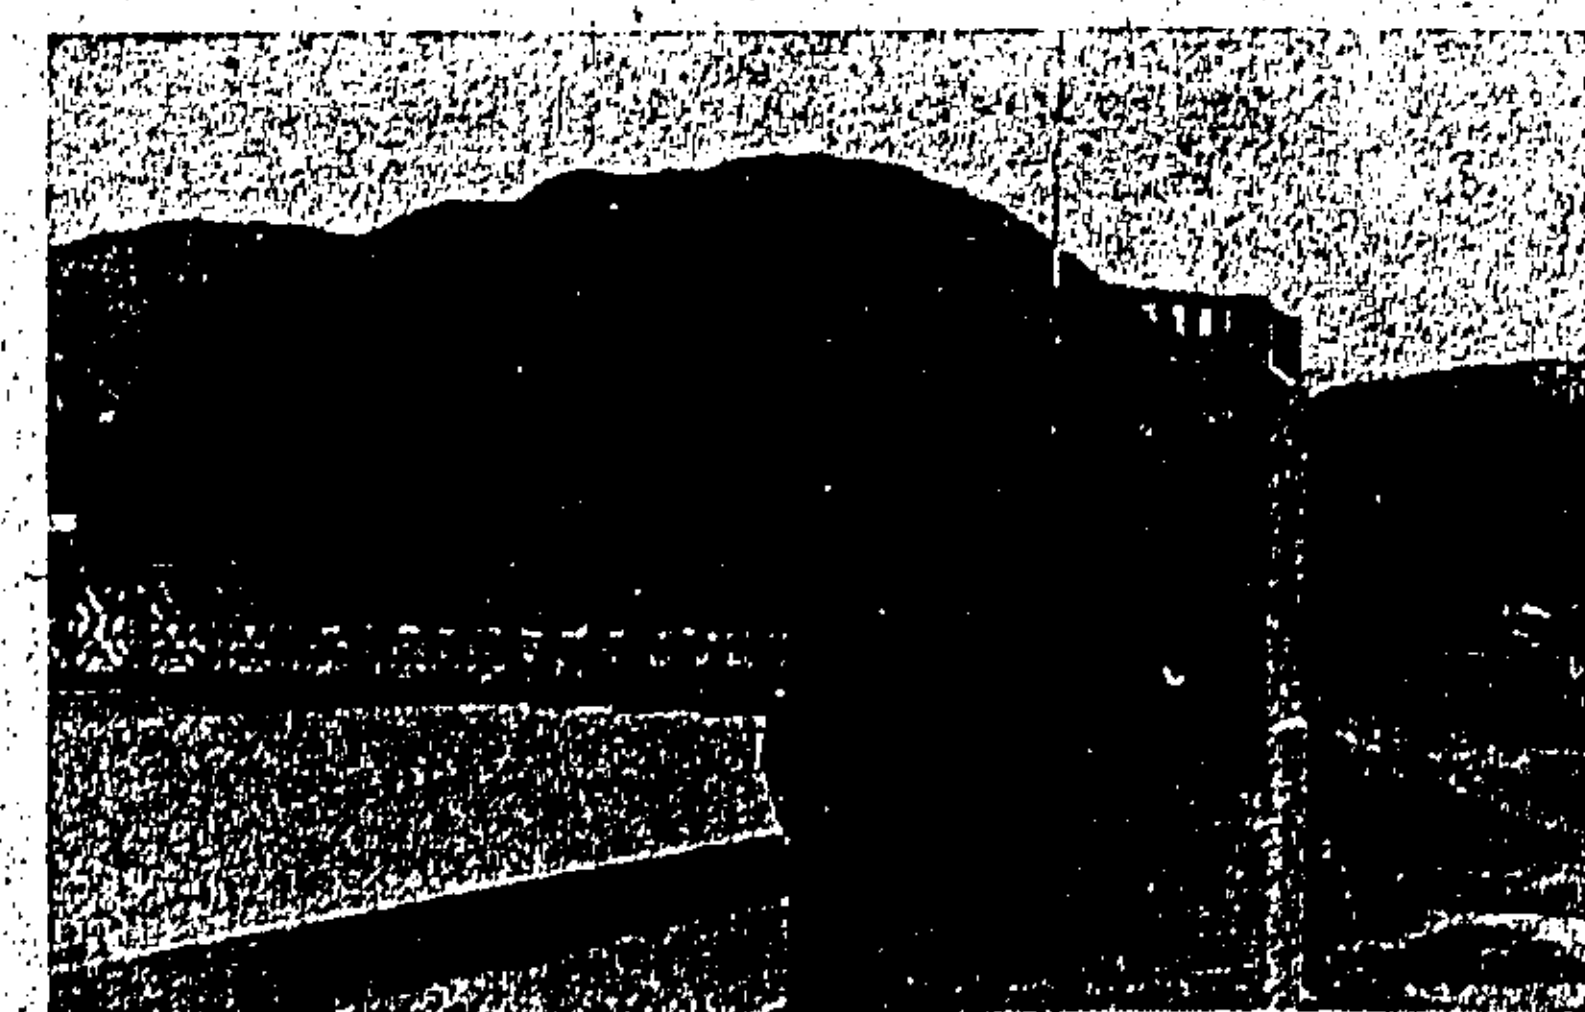

Mr. Tribbeck is leaving the Colony on Saturday of next week, after over five years as Minister of the Methodist Church and President of the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home. During his stay here a $30,000 extension has been built to the Home. Next Wednesday there will be a farewell meeting at which H.E. the General-Officer-Commanding will be present, and Mrs. Bartholomew will make a presentation to Mr. Tribbeck on behalf of the subscribers who are a numerous body representing all walks of life in the Colony and who have welcomed the opportunity of acknowledging the admirable work which Mr. Tribbeck has done in Hong Kong.

At the last meeting of the Committee of the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home, reference was made to Mr. Tribbeck's departure.

DEATH DEMAND AT MOSCOW TRIAL

Moscow, Jan. 29. Tumultuous applause rang through the courtroom as the Prosecutor, Vyshinsky, concluded an impassioned appeal to-day, demanding that every man accused of plotting against Stalin and the Soviet state, should be sentenced to death before a firing squad.

Vyshinsky alleged the aim of the accused, charged with plotting with Leon Trotsky for the overthrow of the Communist system, was to parcel out Russian territory in economic concessions to imperialistic, Fascist countries, offering such states freedom of action in various spheres, such as the Danube Basin, the Balkans and China.

Counsel for the defence pleaded for the lives of Knyazeff and Arnold, urging that they be spared on the grounds that Trotsky himself was chiefly responsible for the crimes Knyazeff had committed, while Arnold, although ordered to carry out certain acts, had failed to do them because his nerve failed him.—Reuter.

NORWEGIAN INVESTIGATION

Oslo, Jan. 29. One of the most serious charges against the defendants in the notorious Moscow trial has been dissipated by investigations of the Norwegian authorities. The defendant Platakoff admitted that he came by a German plane to Norway in December 1936 to confer with Trotsky on contemplated high treason against Soviet Russia. In view of the sensation aroused in Norway at this allegation the chief of passport control, who was responsible for keeping Trotsky under observation stated that he regarded such a visit highly improbable, since Trotsky was closely guarded by picked state police, who had strict orders not to admit anybody to him. The Norwegian air authorities have now established without a doubt that no German plane landed in Norway in December 1936.—Transocean News Service.

GEN. YANG TO RETAIN COMMAND IN SHENSI

Plenary Session To Settle All Differences

Nanking, January 29. General Yang Hu-chen, the recalcitrant Pacification Commissioner of Shensi, is reported to have accepted a compromise plan of the Central authorities and will be given the same command in Shensi, according to reports current here to-day.

As part of the compromise, General Yang and General Yu Hsueh-chung, Chairman of Kansu Provincial Government, will announce their loyalty to the Central authorities. Lieut.-General Sun Wei-ju, a divisional commander under Yang, is to become Chairman of the Shensi Provincial Government. The Communists are to station in Northern Shensi pending a final settlement.

All political and diplomatic issues as advanced by the Shensi group will be settled by the third plenary session of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee on February 15.—Union News.

REBEL TROOPS WITHDRAW

Temporary Response To Peace Accord

Shanghai, Jan. 29. 29. The withdrawal of the van guard of the Shensi rebels from Chihshui, a railway town east of Sianfu, is considered an indication that the agreement reached on January 27 will be duly executed.

Moreover, the Lunghai Railway is reported to have sent men from Tungkuang to repair the line as far as Sianfu.

Government officers, however, are watching the situation closely, in view of the doubt whether all sections of the rebel camp will sincerely subscribe to the agreement, especially Yang Hu-chen's army.

It is learned the Government has offered General Chang Hsueh-ling's former troops two alternatives: garrison duty either in Kansu or territory on the Honan-Anhui border. In the event of the latter post being chosen, Yang's men would be transferred to Kansu, instead of northern Shensi. But it is understood the majority of Chang's former commanders favour the Kansu billet.

LANCHOW QUIET

Conditions in Lanchow are quiet, declared Mr. R. Walter, technical manager of the Eurasia Aviation Corporation, on his return to Shanghai after the first air trip to Kansu province's capital since the service was interrupted by the December 12 revolt.

Contrary to earlier reports, the foreign population at Lanchow does not desire to evacuate.

This is the first direct information from Lanchow through foreign channels for many weeks, and has greatly reassured missionary and other circles in Shanghai.—Reuter.

Brussels, Jan. 29. Much prominence is given in the press to the report that a meeting is to take place between the Belgian Foreign Minister and the representative of the Spanish Government, del Vayo, and that the topic of conversation will be the murder in Madrid of the Belgian Minister Borghave.

It will be recalled, that the exchange of notes between the Valencia Government and Brussels on this question led the Belgian Government to consider the advisability of formally recalling its envoy from Spain, and although this would not yet mean the breaking off of diplomatic relations, it would not be without effect on international politics.

It is furthermore stated in the Belgian press that it was this affair in the first place which gave rise to the present Government crisis, as it was the reason for Minister Emile Vandervelde's resignation from his portfolio of Public Health.—Transocean News Service.

SPANISH PEASANT UNREST

Serious Clashes With Militia

Paris, Jan. 28. The unrest of the peasants in Spain in the districts under the rule of the Valencia Government is assuming serious proportions. The unrest is caused by an order, requiring them to hand over to the Government three-quarters of their harvest.

"Le Jour" reports that serious clashes have already taken place between the peasant organisations and the militia, during which 200 persons were killed and 350 injured.

While in Madrid torrential rains prevent large scale operations, in the south several nationalist detachments have gained ground. Thus the town of Santa Cruz del Comercio was occupied by a column commanded by Colonel Barban, and detachments under Colonel Cascoja's command continued to advance on Andujar. Reports from Barcelona state that several buildings in that city are being reconquered for the reception of the Red Defence Committee from Valencia, which is expected to arrive in Barcelona in the next few days.

FRANC DEFENCE MEASURE

Paris, Jan. 28. The decision to increase the bank rate from two to four per cent. is a logical sequel of M. Vincent Auriol's statement from the Ministry of Finance yesterday that the Government would defend the franc against speculative attacks.

It is an orthodox measure of defence against the recent heavy selling of francs, which was due to the belief that the Government might devalue the currency to the lowest possible limit, corresponding to 112 francs to the pound sterling.

Further relief to the French Treasury is expected momentarily in the shape of a British credit of £50,000,000, for nine months or a year.

The Treasury, however, is only entitled by statute to borrow a further 250,000,000 francs from the banks, and it therefore remains to be seen whether the rise of the bank rate will succeed in allaying fears concerning the fate of the franc.—Reuter.

WEEK-END SPORT

At Sookunpoo the Indian Recreation Club will be at home to the Hong Kong Cricket Club. I said last week that I did not think they would beat the Civil Service or that "bowlers like A.H. Abbas and M. el Arculli would do well against really good bats." Well, I proved to be wrong in both instances, for the I.R.C. won and Arculli had 6 for 17. It would be interesting to see how this bowler would shape against batsmen like the two Peases, H. Owen Hughes, F. (Peanut) Marshall and H. Neve, for his performance last week should give him the required confidence for a big game. A.H. Madar will still be out of the team, and so would A.S. Sumfai. I do not know who have been chosen to fill their places, but I think the Club will win. The University entertain Craigengower Cricket Club who should win comfortably.

THE JUNIORS

A full programme of League games will be carried out in the second division. All eyes will be on the Kowloon Cricket Club juniors who are hot favourites for 9.48 a.m.—H. Stewart, D. D. Forbes.

9.56 a.m.—E. Taylor, H. E. W. Taylor.
10.04 a.m.—Rear Admiral Sedgwick, G. A. Penreath.
10.12 a.m.—D. MacAllister, G. N. Gowler.
10.16 a.m.—Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. Blake.
10.24 a.m.—J. H. McElney, Wing Comdr. Bishop.
10.40 a.m.—Mrs. W. J. E. MacKenzie, Mrs. Overy.
10.56 a.m.—Mrs. Smalley, Mrs. Harropp.

Hockey

(By R. H. B.)

Greatest interest will be centred in the Caer Clark Cup hockey match to be played this afternoon between the Hong Kong Ladies H.C. and the Y.M.C.A. Ladies. It is a needle encounter as both teams are in the running for title honours. For the "Y" Ladies the match is of the utmost importance for if they win they will have custody of the trophy which was won last year by the Central British Association Ladies. If H.K. Ladies win they will inflict the first defeat on the Y. Ladies in the competition this season. The H.K. Ladies have another fixture and that is against the Saints Ladies. If they win both the Caer Clark Cup will return to their custody after an absence of a year. This afternoon's match will be played on the U.S.R.C. ground at 3.15 p.m.

The goal-scoring list in the Caer Clark competition is headed by Miss M. Smith ("Y" Ladies) with nine goals to her credit. Then follow Mrs. M. Read ("Y" Ladies) (7), Mrs. Donald (H.K.) and Miss P. Glittins (St. Andrew's) (six each).

Last Sunday's match between the C.B.A. and the "Y" Ladies produced splendid hockey and if the former had only adopted their attack methods in the first half as they did in the second half they might easily have won. Miss O. Peters, C.B.A. pivot, and Mrs. M. Read, the "Y" centre-forward, were both injured and limped after the game. It is hoped that Mrs. Read will have recovered completely for the all-important match this afternoon.

Mrs. Donald, the H. K. Ladies centre-forward, is certainly most dangerous especially when she enters the dec. She will be a thorn in the Shanghai defence but I rather fancy that the way to cope with Mrs. Donald's amazing speed and stick work is to tackle her well before she comes into the shooting circle. She scored a splendid, though typical, goal against the C.B.A. on Saturday last but she missed two sitters in the second half. She will have to be watched by Miss E. Thompson this afternoon.

Appropos the Interport hockey match the following team to represent Hong Kong was suggested to me last week:—Mrs. Lunson; Miss Gray and Miss Fowler; Mrs. L. Silva, Miss Pope and Miss Wong; Miss O. Dalziel, Miss Marsh, Mrs. Donald, Miss Smith and Miss Westcott.

Soccer

(BY JAY MARTIN)

The outstanding event this week-end will be the Final Interport Trial (Probables v. Possibles) which will be played on the Club ground to-morrow when the Selection Committee will make their final choice of the players to represent Hong Kong in the forthcoming match against the Shanghai eleven. The Interport match is scheduled for February 11, so that there is not much time for the selectors to make up their minds regarding the players.

Sports writers are at variance regarding the final line-up and it would be interesting to note their differences of opinion. "Veritas" favours the following team:—Rowlands; Lee Tin-sang and A. V. Gosano; Leung Wing-chiu, N. Beltrao and Evans; Yeung Shul-yick, Fung King-cheong, Lee Walton, Wilson and Bickford. His contemporary advocates:—Pau Ka-ping or Rodger; Lee Tin-sang and Tam Kong-pak; A. V. Gosano, N. Beltrao and Wride; Yeung Shul-yick, Fung King-cheong, Lee Wai-long, A. Wilson, and Bickford or D. Knox.

"R. H. B." writing in the "Daily Press" picks the following team:—Rowlands; Lee Tin-sang and A. V. Gosano; Leung Wing-chiu, Beltrao and Campbell or Bliss; Yeung Shul-yick or Erwin, Leonard, Lee Wai-long, Wilson and Bickford. But, what will be the selectors' choice?

To-morrow's Interport Trial will give the selectors their opportunity to decide, upon the left-half, right-wing and left-wing berths. D. Knox this week will be tried at the outside-left position. On account of Lee Wai-tong's presence, Knox must fit himself to another position. Although he started local football at outside-left, he has been consistently played at centre-forward and it is yet doubtful whether he will be able to custom himself to playing at his former position again. So far as Bickford is concerned, he has distinguished himself in so many Interports at outside-left that many had thought he was a certainty, and although his form has not been very consistent recently, some still favour him for that berth in view of his past performances.

CHINESE INTERPORT

The Hong Kong Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation have agreed to hold an Interport of their own on Sunday, February 14, while the clash against the Combined Services will be played on Wednesday, February 17. Incidentally, several matches have been arranged to be played in Canton, the principal one being against the Rest of Canton.

In order to raise funds for the Fong Pin Hospital, the Combined Federations of Hong Kong and Canton have invited Recrelo and St. Joseph's to send a combined team to Canton on February 21. The latter will meet a team drawn from the Hong Kong, Shanghai and Canton Chinese.

LEAGUE MATCHES

Several interesting League games have been arranged for to-day, among which the encounter between Recrelo and Seaforths at King's Park should be the drawing card. In view of Recrelo's performance last week, when they defeated St. Joseph's and earned their entry into the Semi-finals of the Senior Shield, besides earning the two points for the League, the home team might score a win over the Highlanders. The Seaforths, on the other hand, have shown that they possess a team whose strength is not unequal to that of the Fusiliers.

South China "A" should have no difficulty in accounting for Eastern at Causeway Bay, while the Rifles will, no doubt, find the Club easy opponents. The Navy have drawn South China "B" this week and, with their team at depleted strength, they are facing another loss. The Fusiliers should find Athletics another stepping stone for their upward progress in the League table. The match between St. Joseph's and Kowloon should, if St. Joseph's are to repeat their last week's performance, give Kowloon a fighting chance to earn two points which they have not done for a long time.

Following are the week-end fixtures:—

Conquer that Weakness!

You can—with SANATOGEN

"There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, and more particularly in cases of general debility".

—writes "The Lancet."

"A Great Strengthener", wrote the Hon. Sir F. A. Robertson, Judge of the Chief Court, Lahore, about Sanatogen.

Remember that these letters—and thousands similar—were written by people who, before the use of Sanatogen, were just as sceptical as you may be of its tonic effects. But they decided to try Sanatogen and they got back their health and vigour.

"Sanatogen"—as a well-known London physician puts it—"goes straight to the core of well-being, namely, the cells—and builds these up into a permanent and solid fabric of health."

Sanatogen will build up your Health lastingly. Over 25,000 physicians support this claim with their written commendation.

"Sanatogen gives a distinct restorative effect", writes Sir Luke White.

"My nurses and myself were very much struck with my rapid improvement with Sanatogen", writes the wife of a well-known doctor, Mrs. C. A. M. Phillips.

"A Wonder-worker" are the words in which Mr. Coulson Kernahan, the well-known author, describes Sanatogen.

SANATOGEN will always do you good and cannot possibly do harm.

TEXTILE EXPORTS

Sir Henry Gullett, Australian Minister for Trade Treaties, has issued a statement in reply to the criticism by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce of the new commercial agreement between Australia and Japan.

The Minister says it is difficult to understand the attitude of the Manchester Chamber. If the Chamber had been told a year ago that they would now be in their present position with respect to the Australian market they would have counted themselves extraordinarily fortunate.

It was never contemplated (he adds) that the extreme duties imposed in May, including 9d. a square yard upon rayon, would continue to operate at that level if the Japanese Government would agree to the request of the Commonwealth for quantitative limitation of Japanese textiles exported to Australia. This was understood by everybody. Under the settlement reached with Japan imports from Japan of the two textiles have been reduced by approximately 33,000,000 square yards compared with the figures for the year 1935. The new specific rates of duties more than maintain the Ottawa margins of preference for the United Kingdom, and are far more favourable to Lancashire than the old "ad valorem duties." In addition the agreement with Japan provides for quota restrictions.

Sir Henry Gullett says that the value of the settlement to Manchester is to be found not only in the reduction of Japanese exports from 153,000,000 to less than 120,000,000 square yards, but also in the fact that Japan cannot expand her share of the Australian market in these textiles. But for the restriction imposed by the Commonwealth, imports from Japan during 1937 would have far exceeded 200,000,000 square yards.

BRITAIN AND CHINA

The Chinese Ambassador, who was accompanied by Mme. Quo, presided at the annual dinner of the China Society at Claridge's on January 11. Sir Austen and Lady Chamberlain were the guests of honour.

China, the Ambassador said, was more open to cooperation with the whole outside world than almost any other country. Patience, energy, and a little sagacity were bringing China round the corner, and the influence of increased communication and transportation facilities was transforming the disposition and outlook of the people. He emphasized the structural solidity of the Chinese Government as a Government as much of organization as of personalities. There was new hope and confidence everywhere in China. China was learning, he would almost say had learned, to be politically national, not simply racial.

DESIRE FOR COOPERATION

Great Britain had made it abundantly clear that she meant to maintain all her contacts with China and increase rather than diminish them. On her part, China continued to show her desire for cooperation. Chinese and British affairs had their roots intertwined in the Far East, whether in taste or culture or in world peace.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, responding to the toast of "Our know our function had to be cancelled last year which allowed those fellows North of the Tweed to not only get in ahead of us but also have a second bite at the cherry only a few nights ago. However, late as we are, I can say none the less that we are proud to have His Excellency and Lady Caldecott with us this evening and prouder still that we have had them to look after us and correct our little peccadilloes for even the short time they have been with us.

IRREPARABLE LOSS

We are all agreed that the powers at home had no thought for Hong Kong when they decided to send His Excellency and Lady Caldecott to Ceylon, so we can only bow our heads to what is an irreparable loss not only to us but, I venture to say, to China and England as well. I could, I suppose, reel off a long list of his and her many virtues but I would hate to make them blush—I can only say that I cannot imagine there is anyone we would have been as proud to have as Governor here and anyone we could regret more having to lose when he is in the prime of life and fit and able to do many things which require to be done in this place.

THE QUIET ENGLISH

The English are splendid because there is some sort of quiet power in them—it is hard to say what it is. They never shout it abroad that they are English—if they are accused of being English they merely say "Yes, what of it?"

I think the real power of the English is their power of absorption—they seem to absorb anything and anyone. How often do we permit a Scot or an Irishman or a Welshman to come along and rule us as a Prime Minister or some such thing, and what happens—we make quite a man of him before we let him go. Of course the English don't come off top-dog all the time and an occasional Welshman gets away with things, but by and large the system seems good.

I don't think I would be far out if I describe the English character as the one which leavens out the others and in a very large measure makes up the real British character. I don't know if non-English people will agree with what I have said, but whether I am right or wrong, I am sure it is high time we puffed out our chests and thought so ourselves—just this one day a year we may as well think ourselves the king pins of the universe and let the others know it.

THE TOAST

Your Excellencies, ladies and gentlemen, I ask you to rise and drink with me to the pious memory of St. George.

The President's dinner party was as follows:—His Excellency the Governor, Lady Caldecott, His Excellency Maj.-Gen. A. W. Bartholomew, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., Mrs. A. W. Bartholomew, His Hon. GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENT

the majority of Hong Kong's business men to hold greater possibilities for British trade than could be expected from Ceylon, but the Secretary of State thinks differently and we must bow to his judgment with as good a grace as possible. In saying this, I cast no aspersions whatsoever on our new Governor, but everyone knows how long it takes for a complete stranger to this part of the world to come to grips with things.

GENIAL RELATIONSHIP WITH CHINESE

Hon. Dr. Li Shu Fan (member of the Legislative Council and the Urban Council):

"In view of the fact that Sir Andrew Caldecott's relationships with the Chinese people and the Chinese officials have been so genial, now that he is leaving the scene of his labour which has been so successful after his assumption of office, it seems to me that the public is at a loss to understand the underlying reason which prompted his transfer and the confirmation of that transfer. I have no doubt that the Chinese community felt most keenly on the failure of its efforts in being unable to retain His Excellency, Sir Andrew Caldecott, as Governor of Hong Kong."

Tuberculosis Scourge

The chief source of infection is from sputum of (1) active tuberculous persons; (2) tuberculous carriers who do not show signs or symptoms of the disease.

People can be infected by (1) droplets of sputum during the act of coughing; (2) dried sputum with millions of germs mixed with dust, blown up and inhaled. The bacilli can be found in the city in sweeping dust from tram-cars, streets, theatres, etc. This can be brought home in millions by shoes, dogs, etc.

If the source could be limited, the death rate would be very much lower as shown in London between 1901 and 1910 when the death rate declined 33 per cent.

Prevention must be done by both the Government and the people. The Government should make it a notifiable disease, but he did not see how the Government could do it at present in Hong Kong. Nevertheless it was a very effective measure to counter-act the situation.

Second, improvement of the housing and other sanitary conditions of the poor; thirdly, enactment of laws against spitting in public. There were already anti-spitting by-laws for eating houses. This may be extended to other public places.

Lastly, the establishment of a sanatorium for the early and late cases so as to segregate the disease as much as possible.

The following should be done by the people:—

(1) Co-operation with the Government in the above measures; (2) Education of the public as to the cause and prevention of the disease; (3) The sputum should be kept and destroyed. This is the only source of T.B. If one could do this satisfactorily, the preceding measures were only of secondary importance. The disease would be checked.

People must resolve that no matter if a person is healthy or sick he or she should not spit in public places except (1) into paper napkins to be stored in a bag and later destroyed; (2) into spittoons with anti-septics provided for; (3) into one's own handkerchief which may be burned or boiled for thirty minutes afterwards. This is not so satisfactory as paper napkins.

"It is our duty to educate the public so as to carry this out; and when done, the battle against the scourge is at least half won," he concluded.

Is Glasgow Going West?

Were Glasgow accompanied in its meanderings by Greenwich the prospect would not be quite so alarming, said Mr. Tannahill, who focally suggested that we might then interpret our change in longitude simply to a growing desire on the part of Great Britain to break away from European entanglements!

But, unfortunately, Glasgow in its slow westward voyage leaves Greenwich behind.

"In this case," said Mr. Tannahill, "our effect must be taken to indicate that Britain is attached to the Continent only in the neighbourhood of the Channel, and is turning slowly round a point somewhere in Kent, so that the northern part of our land moves westward, while Greenwich in the South remains comparatively stationary."

Mr. Tannahill remarked that whatever was the explanation of this apparent change in longitude, it was far too startling an occurrence to accept without further investigation. Before we theorised we must establish the facts, he said. The solution of the puzzle remained for the future.
